Atlantic Jurisdiction Grand Council Convention Does Good Work.

Action Taken That Will Broaden Scope and Increase Its Strength.

Greetings From Bishop O'Donoghue Presented by Father Driscoll.

RECEIVE KENTUCKY WELCOME

The second Atlantic Jurisdiction Grand Council convention of the Young Men's Institute concluded its three days' work Wednesday evening, with results that should prove most gratifying to the 15,000 members of this most worthy Catholic society. The Grand officers, delegates and visitors began arriving Saturday and when the Grand Council convened Monday morning the number ran into the hundreds. Before the first session the delegates, visitors and ladies and members of Trinity, Mackin and Unity Councils assembled at the Tyler Hotel, which were the headquarters, and then proceeded to the Cathedral, where the Rev. P. M. J. Rock sang the high mass and preached a sermon that struck home to all who heard him. Father Rock, who was one of the first chaplains of the Y. M. I., said they were welcome, thrice welcome. The members, he said, should live for their motto, all being bound to work for God and country. It was their duty to exemplify upright, chaste and Christian lives, and those who work for God work for their country and all that is right, just and proper. The music of the mass was rendered by a selected choir and was most excellently rendered.

After the mass the convention was called to order in the Italian room of the Tyler Hotel by President Robert T. Burke. City Attorney Pendleton Beckley welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city. M. J. McCrea, of Scranton, making the response. President Burke appointed Patrick S. King, of Maryland, as Marshal, and John J. Barry, of New Haven, as Sentinel. The roll call showed all the officers present together with over 100 delegates. President Burke announced the following committee, after which adjournment was taken. Credentials—John J. Mooney, Jr., Chairman; Fred Kramer, Frank Hahan, George F. Malloy, George P. Zulinsky.

Laws—Philip M. Canale, Chairman; V. K. Ecker, Joseph P. Connolly, Leo X. Smith, D. O'Brien.

State of the Order—William J. Clark, William Conway, Edward P. Longinotti, Patrick S. King, William Stokes.

Finance—W. S. McKenzle, Chairman; Michael Lane, John W. Murphy, James O'Hara, Leonard Monahan.

Organization—James B. Kelly, Chairman; G. A. Lang, J. J. McNeill, the Rev. Francis Felten, C. B. Edwards.

Resolutions—The Rev. Morris O'Connor, Joseph Regan, Timothy Byrne, Charles H. Barbour, A. G. Maloney.

Press—M. J. McCrea, John Pontre, George J. Thornton.

At night an elegant banquet was served at the Seelbach, presided over by W. A. Link as toastmaster. Rev. Father Daniel A. Driscoll, Secretary to the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, presented the Bishop's greetings, and Rev. Francis Felten, pastor of St. Augustine's church, responded to the toast, "Our Convention City," taking the place of the Mayor. Father Felten said Louisville is his third home. His cradle stood in Berlin. His next home, he said, was in Vienna, and now it is in Louisville that he hopes his life will terminate. "If after living in two of Europe's greatest cities I am content to live in Louisville until I die, I hope the visiting delegates will be able to enjoy a few days here," said Father Felten. The response to the toast was given by Philip M. Canale, of Memphis; Past Supreme President William Fogarty, of Indianapolis, and Grand President Robert T. Burke, all of whom advocated strict loyalty and united effort to increase the membership to 50,000. Tuesday two sessions were held, the delegates getting down to earnest work. Both were concerned with the reports of committees and the recommendations of Grand President Burke, providing for the adoption of a new ritual and the publishing of a monthly periodical as the official organ of the organization, and revision of the constitution and by-laws necessitated by the separation of the Grand Council into the Pacific and Atlantic Jurisdictions, all of which were given favorable consideration. The financial statement showed the organization to be in good shape, having a surplus of about $1,000 after providing for all the expenses of the meeting. During the afternoon session the convention was addressed by the Rev. Cletus Brady, of the Sacred Heart Retreat, and the Rev. James Ryan, of Henryville, Ind. Before adjourning it was voted to make the age limit to sixteen to eighteen years and to issue an official monthly journal.

Bishop Denis O'Donoghue, of the diocese of Louisville, attended the convention and delivered an address that aroused great enthusiasm. "The workings of the Young Men's Institute meet my hearty approval," he said among other things. "I was initiated something like twenty years ago in the city of Indianapolis, which city, by the way, I helped to put upon the map. And I am still a member and intend to continue to be a member."

The business of the convention was concluded late Wednesday afternoon, when $2,000 was subscribed for organization work. The changes in the laws were only minor and made in order to make them more uniform. Memphis, Scranton, Indianapolis and Richmond, Ind., were in the field for the next convention, which goes to the last named city.

In recognition of his faithful services Robert T. Burke, of Louisville, was re-elected Grand President without opposition. Other officers elected were the Rev. Father Francis Felten, Louisville, Honorary Grand Chaplain; the Rev. Morris O'Connor, Terre Haute, Grand Chaplain; Philip M. Canale, Memphis, Grand First Vice President; Patrick King, Cumberland, Grand Second Vice President; Francis Carroll, Brazil, Ind., Grand Secretary; William C. McKenzle, Pittsburgh, Grand Treasurer; William P. Stokes, Scranton, Grand Marshal; V. K. Ecker, Louisville, G. A. Land, Terre Haute, and John Pontre, New Albany, members of the Board of Grand Directors.

ROBERT T. BURKE,
Elected Grand President of Young Men's Institute.

INTEREST IN MEETING.

When President Mark Ryan called to order the regular meeting of Division 1, A. O. H., many faces were seen who had been absent for some time, and it was a source of much pleasure to witness the interest and enthusiasm manifested in the proceedings. Because of the resignation of James P. Barry a new Recording Secretary had to be elected and Daniel McCarthy was unanimously chosen for the position. David O'Connell and Thomas Keenan spoke on the past, present and future of the mother division, the good it has done and the continuing of its laudable mission of knitting together the members in the bonds of friendship, unity and Christian charity. The Treasurer was pleased with the receipts from the 5th Major Gen. Michael Reichert, State President Score and Secretary W. T. Meehan were present and spoke of the coming State convention, after which it was voted that the Central Committee would assist in entertaining the delegates and visitors. Several branches reported that a number of applications had been received and Louisville would soon show a marked gain in membership. Delegate Charles Falk extended an invitation to the delegates and their branches to be present at the reception and card party to be given by Branch 6 at St. Martin's Hall on August 30.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS.

The monthly meeting of the Central Committee, C. K. of A., was held Friday night at St. John's Hall, the branches being unusually well represented. President Ben Kruse occupied the chair and the proceedings were full of interest. Much routine business was transacted and a programme outlined for the excursion to be given to Jasper, and Ferdinand, La., on Sunday, September 5. Major Gen. Michael Reichert, State President Score and Secretary W. T. Meehan were present and spoke of the coming State convention, after which it was voted that the Central Committee would assist in entertaining the delegates and visitors. Several branches reported that a number of applications had been received and Louisville would soon show a marked gain in membership. Delegate Charles Falk extended an invitation to the delegates and their branches to be present at the reception and card party to be given by Branch 6 at St. Martin's Hall on August 30.

HOLY ROSARY ACADEMY.

The two buildings on the northeast corner of Fourth and Park avenue, recently purchased by the Dominican Sisters for Holy Rosary Academy, are being rapidly converted into what will be one of the most commodious schools in the State. The remodeled building will provide an ideal location and ample facilities and will be ready for classes when the school season opens next month.

RAILROAD EXCURSION.

The annual excursion of the Catholic Knights of America this year will be given to Jasper and Ferdinand, Ind., on Sunday, September 5, over the Southern railway. This has always been the big excursion of the year and committees are working to make it surpass any yet given. As it takes place just before Labor day there will be opportunity for all to make the trip. The train will leave the Seventh street depot at 7:45 in the morning, returning about 11 o'clock in the evening.

MEXICO.

Transit Missionary's Slanderous Description of Mexican People.

Blames Catholic Church For Present State of Anarchy in That Country.

Deserts His Field When Needed Most by His Workers and Followers.

NO ABANDONED CHILDREN THERE

A Baptist missionary, writing for the Baptist Quarterly Magazine, in discussing the present and future prospects of his church publishes the following slanderous untruths about unhappy Mexico and goes out of his way to attack the Catholic church. He says in part:

Our missionaries find among the people of Mexico almost a complete divorce between morality and religion; it does not interfere with the average person's conception of religion to drink, gamble, desecrate the Sabbath, lead an immoral life, or even murder or rob; one can do these things and still be religious if only outward conformity to the church is kept up. When Romanism took possession of the country the Indians did not give up their old idolatry, but simply transferred their worship from their old idols to Christian saints. In their case some one has said: "Paganism was baptized, Christianity was paganized." Let those who look upon Romanism as Christianity see this country, where she has had every chance for centuries, and see what has really happened. In some parts of the country our missionaries have been compelled to abandon the work for the time being and much of the work which has been done is seemingly destroyed. During the past year the workers of the Southern Baptist convention had 194 baptisms on some of their fields. The missionaries being compelled to leave, and the work being wholly in the hands of the native workers, only partial reports of the work have been obtained. What the final outcome of the present turmoil in that unhappy country will be no one can foretell. There is only one thing which will solve the troubles of Mexico, and that is Christ. Romanism with its semi-paganism has tried and failed, and only the pure gospel will lead them out into the light.

The writer by his own confession has deserted his post just when the 194 converts would need him most and left their future salvation in the hands of native workers. The superstition referred to is the sacrifice of the mass, by which the church keeps in the heart of the Indian reverence for God. It is no more superstitious in Mexico than in the United States. Stanley E. Bowie, in a recent letter from Mexico City, says that what impressed him most was the rapid attention of the rich and poor in the Cathedral of that city. It was the tremendous democracy of Mexican sinners that seemed to say, "O Lord, be merciful to me a sinner." The thousands of masses they had attended had brought no callouses. Time had but augmented that august mystery. "They seemed to see but only one Jesus." In any non-Catholic country that is only 16 per cent, while here you find such reverence for God? Now organized atheism, sharking up followers from the 84 per cent, remaining population, from the red men and the black men and the mixed breeds, have made war on religion; so now that they quaff their cognac from the sacred chalices and sing ribald songs in the churches. And the world looks on and says, "See what the Catholic church has done for the Mexicans." An American lady traveling in Mexico said: "You Mexicans are very barbarous in allowing and enjoying these horrible bull fights."

"Ah, senora, you have, they tell me, in your country orphan asylums of abandoned children? Is it not so? Senora, we have no such asylums in our country. No, senora, we have no such institutions here—we don't abandon our children." After all, which is worse, abandoning bulls to the arena or abandoning children to the streets?

Judging by his writings the fly-by-night missionary evidently approves of Carranza, Villa and the rest of cut-throat leaders who are following out his ideas and trying to crush out the Catholic church and religion in Mexico, and has certainly overlooked an opportunity in joining the ranks of one of these noble (?) where he could enjoy himself in his heart's content in seeing priests persecuted and nuns outraged.

PRIEST ENDS STRIKE.

The strike of 1,500 transfer company teamsters and chauffeurs, which began in St. Louis last Friday, was settled Sunday night. The men were granted a general wage increase of fifty cents a week, a reduction of about one hour in the working day and better working conditions. The wage increase, according to the team owners, will aggregate $60,000 a year, whereas the original demands of the strikers called for increases totaling $160,000. The settlement was brought about by Father Timothy Dempsey, a Catholic priest. He pleaded with leaders of each side on behalf of the welfare of the community and induced them to agree to a meeting. Saturday night and Sunday the representatives failed to reach an agreement. Father Dempsey Sunday night appeared before the striking teamsters and recalled to them the fatalities of the last teamsters' strike in St. Louis, nearly ten years ago. A few minutes later the strikers voted to accept the offer of the Team Owners' Association.

MEET NEXT IN NEW YORK CITY

With Pontifical high mass in St. Francis de Sales Cathedral, the fourteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies opened Sunday in Toledo, Ohio. Most Rev. John Bonzano, Papal Delegate, was the celebrant of the mass. The parade from St. John's College to the Cathedral was led by the Boston Band. The formation consisted of Polish Lancers, Knights of Columbus, Polish Knights, Hibernian Rifles, Knights of St. John, the Most Rev. Bonzano, Bishop Schrembs, visiting prelates and delegates. The parade was the largest Catholic demonstration ever held in Ohio. Bishop Schrembs extended the greeting to the place in the hearts of the people which the Pope held and the loyalty and love of the Catholics for the Pontiff. He spoke at some length on the work of the delegates for the benefit of the church. He also extended a welcome to the visiting prelates and delegates to the convention. Bishop Gallagher preached the sermon at the mass, deprecating the absence of action in the outrages against priests and nuns in Mexico and also speaking against the evils of divorce and lack of organization of the laity.

Apostolic Delegate John Bonzano was introduced at the night meeting by Bishop Schrembs. The personal representative of the Pope in America thanked the people for their cordial welcome. He said in part: "I am a simple man. But I want to say just a word about the Catholic Federation of America. The federation represents the army of the Catholic church. I do not mean the generals, but the soldiers. This opinion springs naturally from the learning of the catechism, for from that moment you are affiliated with the American Federation of Catholic Societies. Let you ally yourself with the great army. There is work for everybody. There is so much good to do and so much evil to remedy in this society that you all should take a part."

The second day reports were read and an address on peace was delivered by President Whalen, who said the Catholic world looked to this convention for that leadership and counsel which makes the people contented with their station in life and gives assurance beyond any doubt that, come what may, the Catholics, the country over, will never forget their country and their flag.

Immigration in all its phases was discussed in the mass meeting Tuesday night, the speakers being the Rev. Frederick Siedenburg, S. J., dean of the School of Sociology, Loyola University, Chicago; Charles J. F. Regis Canavin, Pittsburgh; their own churches and congregations. Father Dominic, Provincial of the Passionists, with Father Vincent and Brother Lawrence, arrived in 1861 and on April 21 the parish was turned over to the care of that order.

But years before when Father Cauvin had the parish in good running order he began to lay plans for another church in Hoboken and he secured the original ground of the present Church of Our Lady of Grace, which was enlarged by subsequent purchases so as to include the entire block. The original outlay was $2,600. Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, who was consecrated October 30, 1853, and had assumed charge of the new diocese of Newark, laid the cornerstone September 4, 1854, and preached to a large congregation and, June 24, the next year the church was dedicated.

Among its treasures is a magnificent altar piece, a copy of Raphael's Madonna di Foligno, painted by Adoni and presented by the Duke of Genoa; a painting of the crucifixion presented by Henry L. Hoguet, of New York; a diamond-studded crown from the Duchess of Genoa for the statue of Our Lady and a valuable monstrance from Napoleon III.

During a visit to Rome in 1856 Father Cauvin was presented by Plus IX, with the relics of St. Quietus, which had been discovered in the catacomb of St. Praxetatus in 1849. These were solemnly enshrined June 1, 1856, in an altar under the patronage of the saint by Bishop Bayley. The same year

HOBOKEN

First Church Has Grown Into the Passionist Monastery of St. Michael.

SECURED MANY RARE TREASURES

By James A. Rooney, LL. D.
On the morning of August 18, 1874, the feast of St. Helena, mother of Constantine, the titular of the parish church in a little hamlet called Solos, near Nice, France, then in the kingdom of Sardinia, three brothers, priests, officiated at the solemn mass of celebration. The Rev. Sixtus Cauvin, aged eighty-two, was the celebrant; the Rev. Eugene Cauvin, aged ninety, was the deacon, and the Rev. Anthony Cauvin, in his sixty-fourth year, was the sub-deacon. It must have been an inspiring spectacle for the pious people to see these three aged brothers, all natives of their own village, and known and beloved by everybody, officiating together at the same altar. It was the first time they did so since the return of the youngest brother from America, who only the year before had come back to his old home and his own people to spend the remaining years of his life with them.

He was one of the most modest of men and he may not even then have told them of the great things he accomplished for God and the church during the many years of toil he had spent in the sacred ministry in a far-off country; but it was he who founded the parish and built the first church in West Hoboken, which has since grown into the Passionists' great monastery of St. Michael, and he, too, who founded the parish and built the Church of Our Lady of Grace, Hoboken, from which he retired to pass his declining years in his native village, where he lived to be over ninety years of age.

Father Cauvin was the ninth of the ten children of Giacomo and Margherita Cauvin, pious, educated, God-fearing people, who lived to see three of their sons ordained to the priesthood. He was born on August 23, 1810, and made his studies at Avignon, Turin, and in the college of his brother Sixtus at Monaco. He was ordained by Cardinal Brignoli-Sole, October 12, 1834, and after a short service as chaplain for the notorious Count Cavour and years of parish work, he decided to come to New York to labor among his countrymen. He was assistant at St. Vincent de Paul's, then in Canal street, then at Cold Spring and West Point, when Archbishop Hughes assigned him to establish a parish comprising the territory lying between the Hudson and the Hackensack rivers and extending from the Jersey City line to the northern boundary of Hudson county. This included the Hobokenes, those Catholics had to go to mass in St. Peter's, Jersey City, or in old St. Peter's, New York.

A plot of ground had been donated to the Archbishop by Andrew Carrigan, near the present St. Michael's Monastery, and there Father Cauvin built a small church and rectory and enclosed the plot by a fence. It was dedicated November 23, 1851, under the patronage of Our Lady of Mercy in compliment to Cardinal Brignoli, who sent from Rome a present of an oil copy of the painting of Our Lady of Mercy of Rimini, painted by Nicola Paciolli. Here Father Cauvin labored for ten years besides visiting Fort Lee, Bull's Ferry, Hackensack and Lodi, all of which now have their own churches and congregations. Father Dominic, Provincial of the Passionists, with Father Vincent and Brother Lawrence, arrived in 1861 and on April 21 the parish was turned over to the care of that order.

But years before when Father Cauvin had the parish in good running order he began to lay plans for another church in Hoboken and he secured the original ground of the present Church of Our Lady of Grace, which was enlarged by subsequent purchases so as to include the entire block. The original outlay was $2,600. Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, who was consecrated October 30, 1853, and had assumed charge of the new diocese of Newark, laid the cornerstone September 4, 1854, and preached to a large congregation and, June 24, the next year the church was dedicated.

During a visit to Rome in 1856 Father Cauvin was presented by Plus IX, with the relics of St. Quietus, which had been discovered in the catacomb of St. Praxetatus in 1849. These were solemnly enshrined June 1, 1856, in an altar under the patronage of the saint by Bishop Bayley. The same year

Father Cauvin introduced the Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis, who on May 6, 1866, opened St. Mary's Hospital, in which the late Mayor Gaynor, of New York, was a patient at the time of the attempt on his life. Father Cauvin made a passable school out of an old stable and in 1861 he opened his first parochial school in a new building. The teacher in both was Miss Sarah Mahoney, who afterward became a Sister of the Visitation.

After more than a quarter of a century of such labor Father Cauvin resigned his parish July 1, 1873, having accomplished things that exerted a permanent influence on Catholicity in the diocese. To the great regret of his people he sailed on August 9 for his birthplace, where he lived for twenty-nine years ever faithful and strictly conforming to his religious duties. He survived his whole family, his brothers and sisters, and died May 26, 1902, having attained the remarkable age of more than four score and ten years.

WITH OPEN ARMS.

Louisville received the officers, delegates and visitors to the Y. M. I. convention with open arms, and when they left for their homes they carried with them the feeling that Kentucky excels for hospitality. During the four days of the convention there was not an hour not devoted to business that was without its entertainment feature. Sunday afternoon was devoted to a sight-seeing trip around the Falls Cities, with a reception at Unity Council in New Albany and a buffet supper and inspection at Mackin Council club house. Monday afternoon there was a special automobile ride for ladies and members, followed by a reception and elegant luncheon at Trinity Council's home. At night the grand banquet was held at the Seelbach. Tuesday there was a bounteous dinner at the American, a theater party and luncheon by the Louisville Publicity League at Fontaine Ferry and at night a moonlight excursion up the river on the Homer Smith that all enjoyed. While the delegates were engaged in the closing work Wednesday the lady visitors were again guests of the Convention and Publicity League at a delightful dinner at the Vienna. When the convention adjourned there was a trip to the wonderful Mammoth Cave that attracted a large delegation. Many of the women visitors made their headquarters at the Visitation Home for Working Girls, where the treatment accorded them won their lasting friendship for the Sisters and all connected with that splendid institution. Before leaving it was the consensus of opinion that Louisville can get the Y. M. I. convention merely for the asking.

MAKES LARGE GAINS.

The Catholic Young Men's National Union opened its forty-first annual convention Monday in Pittsburgh with delegates from all parts of the United States present. Before the first session the delegates attended a solemn high mass in St. Paul's Cathedral. A public meeting was held Monday night, at which the principal speakers were Bishop J. F. Regis Canavin, Pittsburgh; Michael J. Slattery, President of the union, and the Rev. Father Joseph M. Corrigan, both of Philadelphia. The reports submitted showed that the union had made large gains during the year, especially in the Eastern part of the country. Two days were devoted to the work of the convention, which adjourned Tuesday evening.

M. J. Slattery, of Philadelphia, was re-elected President; the Right Rev. Bishop Thomas Shahan, of Washington, D. C., was again chosen Spiritual Director. The other officers elected were: First Vice President, John H. Lauer, Pittsburgh; Second Vice President, Edward O'Connell, Pittsburgh; Secretary, Sylvester Hauck, Philadelphia, and Treasurer, Harry P. Murray, Philadelphia.

LAST CHURCH PICNIC.

The annual picnic of St. Ann's church will be given at Spring Bank Park next Thursday, and as this is the last church picnic of the season a banner crowd is expected to be in attendance. A euchre and lotto will be held in the afternoon, games to be called at 3 o'clock. The ladies of the parish are preparing to serve an appetizing chicken supper and extend an invitation to their friends throughout the city to be their guests on this occasion. The proceeds of the picnic will be used in defraying the expenses of the improvements to the school. The Oak street cars run past the Spring Bank Park entrance. The same year

CONVENTION

Of State Democrats to Be Held Here On Tuesday, August 31.

Republicans Will Present a United Front in Coming Campaign.

Louisville Times Begins Boom of Judge Greene For Mayor.

DR. BOARD A STATE LEADER

The next event in State politics will be the holding of the Democratic State convention, and delegates to that assembly will be elected in precinct mass conventions, which will be held all over the State next Saturday, beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The delegates will then meet in this city on the following Tuesday, August 31. Representation in the convention will be on the basis of one delegate to every 100 votes cast in the last Presidential election or for every fraction over fifty. There will be 2,196 delegates in the convention, 243 of whom will represent Louisville and Jefferson county. Harmony will be the keynote of the convention, the overwhelming victory of the Stanley and James faction having put the quietus on Percy Hall and his followers, who were expected to dominate the convention in the event of a McChesney victory or stir up trouble for the party in case the result had been close. Speaking of Haly followers, one of his associates and companions for years will be prominent in the convention because of his espousal of the Stanley cause, and that is Dr. Milton Board, who split with the Haly-Beckham machine after the betrayal of Louisville and Jefferson county. It is also a certainty that many other Haly-Beckham followers will seek pastures new for political prospects, as the awful blow sustained shows that the machine strength was overestimated and that, as contended in these columns before, Haly was an overrated politician, the last victory for which he claimed credit the election of McKim following the election of simple and honest from what they term in baseball a "bonehead" play on the part of victimized supporters in this district.

The campaign promises to be quite a lively one, as both parties will have a united strength, the Democrats having no factional fights over the primary results, while the Republicans have united party for the first time in four years, the Progressives with the exception of Louisville having gone back in the G. O. P. ranks. The Bull Moose vote in the entire State dwindled from over 102,000 in 1912 to 3,968 last year. The Herald trying to slip into the Governor's office this year not expecting to surpass the latter vote. That the prospects of the Bull Moose party are not very bright is shown by the actions of the Louisville Herald, which is a reminder of the boy trying to slip under the circle of the Herald trying to slip into the Republican ranks unseen. Every move of the G. O. P. is carefully noted in its columns and no more are the readers treated to rousing editorials in reference to the plutocratic leaders of the Republican party or attacks upon Penrose and Campbell. The former Bull Mooseers are seen idling about the Republican headquarters anxiously awaiting a chance to show that their repentance has been sincere and that they will perform any work, no matter how menial, to get in the graces of the Republican leaders and candidates.

The attempt of the Louisville Times to stir up trouble in local Democratic circles is still attracting attention, not only locally but throughout the State, and the rebuke of Urey Woodson in the Owensboro Messenger this past week was justly deserved. Editor Woodson inferred that the selection of the Mayor here two years hence may be the cause of the Times' antagonism, which seems logical when its columns are being filled with fulsome flattery of County Judge Greene, who appears to be the Times' selection for the Democratic nomination for Mayor. The assertion that the appointment of fifty deputies insured a fair primary is the veriest bosh. If anything, that action was enough to start a riot, the average citizen not relishing being dictated to by some special policeman that he may have seen spending the bulk of his time sitting on the Court House rail waiting for something to turn up. The attack on James B. Brown seems to be part of the plot, simply because his name has been connected with Mayoralty rumors, and it would not be surprising to see the same tactics pursued with other prominent Democrats who might be stronger than the Times' present selection. As for the rumor that the Times would secure control of the City and County Committee, that can be put down as the veriest rot, as the control of committees and conventions can only be obtained with a following strength in the party, and strength is not an asset of the Times.

HAVE CARE.

The time approaches for the re-opening of school. Catholic parents should see that their youth be provided with every facility for obtaining a sound Catholic education. Parents who neglect this vitally important duty to their offspring virtually confess their defection from their church.

DISGUSTED.

A Baptist minister, who had been lecturing his flock and advising them to vote for McChesney, the Prohibition candidate for Governor, is plum disgusted with his success, as is seen by the following: "There are some Baptists who would not attend a circus or county fair, yet they line up and vote for servants of the liquor powers at every election. Baptists by the hundreds voted for saloons to continue their hellish work." Evidently our above brother is disgusted with the Baptist voters who wouldn't follow his advice.

GERMANY.

The publication of a statement by the German Chancellor, "Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, regarding the terms on which the Kaiser would consent to peace negotiations has brought only angry comments from the British press. The Allies will make peace on their own terms, it is asserted. Perhaps so. But he would be a rash prophet who would dare to predict now that Germany can be crushed into submission. A year ago such talk was popular. But a year of terrible war has at least dispelled some illusions.

HOSTILITIES INEVITABLE.

This week the Mexican situation continues more threatening than ever, and despite all that has been done hostilities seem inevitable. Recent events prove that the Mexican brigand leaders hold the authority of the United States in contempt. As the True Voice says, it is not pleasant to contemplate armed intervention in Mexico. Especially is it sad to realize that our present predicament is the result of our own action toward Mexico. We forced Huerta out and in doing so we forced Carranza and Villa upon Mexico. Now they turn upon us and defy us to make them cease their career of loot and murder. They have brought anarchy upon the nation and they will have to be treated as anarchists before they can be brought to time. We may thank Lind and Silliman and other war advisers for the situation that we now are facing.

WATCH FRATERNAL PARADE.

The fraternal parade which will be given next Saturday, mainly under the auspices of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, will be watched closely to see if their banners, placards, etc., will not contain a rebuke to those Baptist ministers who previous to the election got together and adopted resolutions requesting every member of their church and church paper to support McChesney for the Democratic nomination for Governor. One of the first principles of the Junior Order is a declaration that the order is utterly opposed and will strenuously resist the interference of any church, of whatsoever nature or name, with the affairs of the country or State. In connection with the parade it is a funny coincidence that while the leading promoters are all designated as representing different fraternal organizations—nevertheless they all belong to one society—the Junior Order. It is also hoped that the full membership of the latter organization will be in line, as the general public will want to get a good view of the saviors of our country and flag (in times of peace). Following last year's fizzle parade the official organ of the promoters was indignant because some of the members hid behind telegraph poles instead of being in the line of march.

DEFEATED IN ALABAMA.

A convent inspection bill has been defeated in Alabama. The unjust unnecessary measure was killed in the Senate committee, thus meeting the signal defeat it deserved. The best people of Alabama, and non-Catholics, were grouped against the bill, and the Alabama press was just as it was.

PARISH SCHOOL.

Two little nuns are teaching school near by, on Coxy street; I pass each morning as a rule, And now and then we meet.

The humble home is small and low; Its walks are rude and bare, And yet I loiter by, for, oh! It seems so peaceful there!

I never liked to go to school, I'd always rather play; I hated any kind of rule, And sometimes ran away.

But when I pass that little door And breathe that holy air, I want to be a boy once more And learn my lessons there.

Oh, little nuns with wimples white And hearts of purest gold, My soul is troubled sore tonight, My heart is growing cold.

Oh, little nuns of sable dress, As souls of drifting snow Teach me the way of righteousness, And I can learn I know.

—Albert Bigelow Paine.

With a nuptial mass the marriage of Miss Lady Heffernan and William B. Hamill was solemnized Tuesday morning at St. Anthony's church, after which they left on a bridal trip to the Northwest. The bride is a sister of James E. Heffernan, well known in Typographical Union circles, and is a young lady of many accomplishments.

SISTERS RETURN.

The Sisters of Providence teaching in the parochial school of Jeffersonville and New Albany returned Tuesday from St. Mary's of the Woods, near Terre Haute, where they had been attending the annual retreat. Impressive exercises were held at St. Mary's when twenty women took the final veil, sixteen the white and thirty the black. The exercises were conducted by Bishop Silas Chatard, of Indianapolis, who was assisted by a large number of clergymen of the diocese. Following the services Bishop Chatard designated the fields to which the various Sisters will be assigned. It is thought 300 Sisters were present. The retreat closed Monday evening and the Sisters will depart for their various stations.

Monday morning after solemn requiem mass at Holy Cross church the mortal remains of Mrs. Anna Krull were laid to rest in St. Louis cemetery. Mrs. Krull was a neighbor of gentle and kindly nature and enjoyed the esteem of all who knew her.

By the death of Lorena Augustus, beloved wife of James D. Augustus, St. Leo's congregation in Highland Park loses an exemplary and consistent member. Her funeral was held Monday morning with requiem high mass, attended by a large gathering of friends and relatives who mourn her death.

Tobias and Verena Hauck, 310 South Wenzel street, have the sympathy of the community in the loss of their infant daughter Clara Louise, whose death occurred last Saturday morning, following a brief illness. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, when the remains were tenderly laid to rest in St. Louis cemetery. That an angel awaits them in heaven is consolation to the bereaved parents.

In the passing of Mrs. Margaret Kimbel, wife of Charles Kimbel, 519 North Twenty-first street, who succumbed to an operation at St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, the community loses an estimable woman, who was held in high esteem by all who knew her. She was twenty-eight years old and appendicitis caused her death. Her funeral was held Monday morning from St. Cecilia's church.

Miss Mary O'Reilly, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Henry and Elizabeth O'Reilly, 423 North Twentieth street, was claimed by death Monday afternoon, leaving a void among her friends and associates that will be long felt. Funeral services over her remains were held Wednesday afternoon at St. Patrick's church. To the bereaved parents is extended the sympathy of the neighborhood where they reside.

A new gymnasium is nearing completion on Jacob street, on the rear end of the lot of St. Xavier's College, for the benefit of the pupils of that school. It will be equipped with the latest devices and will be much enjoyed by the pupils.

FATHER WESTERMANN, Rev. Father Westermann, pastor of St. Mary's church, is still at St. Joseph's Infirmary, attended by Dr. Bernard Asman. While his illness is serious there is yet hope for his recovery without having to undergo an operation.

AUXILIARY DANCE. The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will entertain with a dance at Seneca Park next Wednesday evening, and the Committee of Arrangements guarantee a pleasant evening to their friends who may attend.

AGED FATHER DIES. News was received Monday of the death on Sunday at Newark, N. J., of John O'Hara, the father of James O'Hara, the well known New Albany letter carrier. The deceased was born in Ireland over eighty years ago, but since his early manhood had been an industrious and respected resident of Newark.

AWAY FOR REST. The Rev. William F. Seibert, the energetic and hard working pastor of St. Mary's church in New Albany, is spending his vacation and enjoying a needed rest in Northern Indiana. During his absence the Rev. Father Andrew, of St. Meinrad's Abbey, is in charge of the affairs of the parish.

PROMOTION DESERVED. Sergt. Daniel J. Moriarity, for twenty years a member of the Louisville police force, was last Saturday promoted to be Lieutenant, a reward earned by faithful and efficient service. The Lieutenant was one of Mayor Tyler's appointees and later received promotion under Mayor Bingham and Mayor Head.

VETERANS' REUNION. The Grand Army of the Republic will hold its annual encampment, which may be the last, in Washington in September. Great preparations are under way to make the reunion memorable for the aged veterans.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Seven thousand were registered at the Seattle convention. There were 150 candidates in the class that received the fourth at Seattle.

Six new charters have been recently granted and six councils instituted.

The Seattle Chamber of Commerce appropriated $8,000 to assist in entertaining the national convention. Louisville will be well represented at the Alhambra convention when it opens Monday at Birmingham.

The council at Tonopah has just paid the last installment on its magnificent home, which cost $30,000.

August 30 has been designated "donation" day for St. Joseph's Orphanage by the Knights of Oklahoma City.

The Knights of Columbus made Saturday one of the memorable ones in the history of the San Francisco Exposition.

Hon. Daniel J. Griffin, member of Congress from New York, conferred the third on a large class last week in San Francisco.

Sunday there was a fourth degree initiation at San Francisco, followed by a banquet attended by the Supreme officers and delegates.

The Knights of Little Falls, Minn., gave a picnic Sunday at Belle Prairie for the benefit of the Academy of Our Lady of Angels at that place.

The camp on the Kentucky river near Frankfort is proving quite popular. Last week many Knights and their ladies enjoyed the outing immensely.

Oklahoma City Knights expect to make Columbus day a holiday for all and have the non-Catholics as well as their own members interested in the celebration.

The Shriners of Seattle, in return for courtesies during Shriners' week there, expressed their desire to assist in every way possible in making the national convention a success.

ENTERS UPON NEW DUTIES.

Miss Rose K. Golden, of Grand Rapids, Mich., recently appointed by the Louisville Board of Public Safety to the office of Superintendent of Nurses of the City Hospital, arrived in the city Friday last to enter upon new duties. The training school of which Miss Golden takes charge at present numbers eighty-one pupil nurses and five graduate nurses. Miss Golden is a member of a family of educators noted throughout the State of Michigan, three members of immediate family having consecrated themselves to the religious life. One of these, a sister of Miss Golden, Mother M. Patricia Golden, is at present and has been for the past five years the Mother Superior of the Convent of the Good Shepherd, twenty-third and Bank streets, one of the largest and best conducted institutions of this city. Miss Golden comes highly recommended from different cities in which she has filled similar positions of Superintendent, and has had a wide range of experience in nursing and teaching, and there is no doubt but under her management the nurses training school at our magnificent new $1,000,000 City Hospital will take rank among the very first in the South.

FAKE LONDON NEWS.

Cardinal Gibbons, in a statement over his signature, last Friday gave an emphatic denial to London dispatches which stated that he and Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, had called a meeting of neutral Cardinals and Bishops to be held in Switzerland for the purpose of discussing peace plans among the European belligerents. In his statement Cardinal Gibbons, who was at Southampton, L. I., said: "The dispatch published in the morning papers in which my name is mentioned in connection with a projected conference of prelates to be held in Switzerland is without foundation."

According to London dispatches the two Cardinals had invited Roman Catholic authorities in neutral countries to a conference which it was asserted, while not officially inspired by the Vatican, had received an unofficial recognition.

INTO THE NAVY.

Allen Riley, who lives with his father, Leonard Riley, at Fifth and G streets, enlisted in the United States navy on Monday. He is seventeen years old and will become an apprentice seaman.

UNIQUE INCIDENT.

What is called by one of our esteemed contemporaries a "probably unique incident" is reported in connection with the consecration of Archbishop Roche for the see of St. John's, Newfoundland. Among the priests present on the occasion was the clergyman who married the Archbishop's parents and baptized the Archbishop at his birth. He is the Rev. Father Vereker, who at that time was curate at Placentia and is now parish priest of Ferryland.

CATHOLIC EDITORS.

The Catholic editors of the country began their annual convention in Toledo following the adjournment of the Catholic Federation. There were about 150 editors and attaches of Catholic papers present, representing about 125 publications. The question of a Catholic daily was discussed, but the majority took the view of Bishop McFall, that the weekly press is doing the work and should receive better support.

COLORED SCHOOLS.

The Catholic colored schools in the country number 165 schools, in which negro children are taught love for God and love for America.

CHANGE IN ACTION.

It may be gratifying to young women to shine as winners trophies at lawn tennis, golf and other outdoor games, but their professional faces in action, as shown in the average public print picture, are not at all winning.

BEAUTIFUL CRUCIFIX.

The ten-foot crucifix over the Archbishop's throne in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, is made entirely from olive wood from the Garden of Gethsemani, and is the work of priests and religious. The figure of Christ is also of olive wood; the cross is inlaid with fourteen medallions of mother of pearl, taken from the ground on which our Lord stood during the Passion. They represent fourteen Stations of the Cross.

IRELAND'S FIRST CARDINAL.

His Eminence Cardinal Logue, Primate of All Ireland, is now in his seventy-sixth year, having been born in 1840, the year in which his present Cathedral of Armagh was begun. His birthplace was Carrigart, in Donegal, in the National school of which he received his primary education. Even then he gave evidence of those talents which were more fully developed later on. Before he was yet a priest he filled the chairs of theology and belles lettres in the Irish College, Paris, where he was ordained in 1866. Returning to his native diocese of Raphoe in 1874, he was consecrated Bishop five years later. The chair of St. Eunan in the early 80's was no mere seat of "learning leisure" for its occupant, and for his flock in famine times he in one year collected close on $150,000. He was chosen as Coadjutor to Archbishop McGettigan in 1877, and became seven months later Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland. His elevation to the Cardinalate in 1893 was a dignity never before attained in the line of 108 Primates from St. Patrick. He labored strenuously for the completion of his Cathedral, the memorial consecration of which took place in 1904. Cardinal Logue is an omnivorous reader and a close student of public affairs, but takes little part in politics.

September 16—Euchre and lotto at St. Augustine's Hall, 1308 West Broadway, afternoon and evening.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.
Piping is a very fashionable trimming just now.
Buttons are to be largely used as dress trimmings.
There is nothing smarter than the plain tailored skirt.
Skirts are to be a trifle longer but as full as ever.
Big Quaker collars are now made in many materials.
Sleeves are long and in the shirt waists lightly gathered into a tight cuff.
Tulle and muslin have superseded nearly every other fabric for dance frocks.
Sleeves on some of the new evening frocks are no more than little ruffles.
Braid is evidently to be a favored trimming for the fall and winter.
Autumn will usher in nothing revolutionary so far as fashions are concerned.
Smoaks made of jersey cloth are delightfully soft and supple in spite of their fulness.
Plain untrimmed felt hats are gaining favor. They are made in numerous colors.

PRAYER BROUGHT RETURN.
She had been paying visits most of the afternoon, and on reaching home and putting away her wraps she discovered that her card-case was missing. In it had been a dollar or two, her cards and a certified check for $200, which she had intended to deposit, but had been too late for her bank.

"Heavens," she exclaimed, "shall I ever see it again?" and sat down in her despair to think over everywhere she had been and might have left it. Suddenly the telephone bell rang.
"Are you Miss Blank, and have you lost anything?" inquired the person at the other end.
"Yes; I have just discovered the loss of my card-case."
"What was in it?" said the voice.
"My cards, some money, a certified check for $200 and, oh, yes! a little prayer on a slip of paper. Did you see that?"
"Yes," said the voice; "I picked the case up. And just let me tell you that it was that prayer that has brought your property back to you."
The card-case owner heaved a sigh of relief and thought how lucky it was for her that a Catholic friend had slipped the little printed prayer into her card-case last summer.

SPOUSES FOR CHRIST.

Following the close of the ten days' retreat at the Sacred Heart Academy, on Cherokee drive, last Wednesday, the beautiful and impressive ceremony of profession and investiture took place, Bishop O'Donoghue presiding over the services. Sixteen young women received the veil of the Ursuline Sisterhood and thirteen made their profession. Those who received the veil were Misses Elizabeth Durbin, Calhoun, Ky.; Louise Jenne, Louisville; Marie Miller, Cumberland, Md.; Mary Ischanski, Cumberland, Md.; Agnes Dugan, Louisville; Clara Becht, Louisville; Leah Fowler, Hardinsburg, Ky.; Aloysia Wheeler, Louisville; Gertrude Heiniger, Louisville; Katherine Snyder, Celestine, Ind.; Clementina Nonte, Louisville; Katherine Dittmeier, Louisville; Katherine Burns, Cumberland, Md.; Edith Stanton, Cumberland, Md.; Florence Mountrey, Hoboken, N. J. Following are the novices who made their vows of profession: Sisters Marie Bannon, Theophilia Wuersch, Cordelia Fleckenstein, Josefa Bunn, Paschalina Bunn, Ethelreda Payne, Gilberta Belshoff, Rita Huttmacher, Armella Wuersch, Eulalia Fisher, Lawrence Oliges, Bernard Schleman, Edmund Reh.

BAPTIST TRIBUTE.

Not all of our separated brethren are heaping filth and abuse upon us in these days of the "anti-Papal" propaganda. Even some of the "evangelical" type, now and then, say a good word for us. Though they seem to come few and far between, it is more the pleasure to record the following tribute by the Baptist Advance to the church for its concern for childhood: "When God throws a child out into the world He is mighty anxious that it gets a right start. The Roman Catholics are right when they say, 'Give us the children until they are ten years old, and we don't care who has them after that.' The Catholics are not losing any sleep about losing men and women from their church membership. It is the only church that has ever shown us the only sensible way to reach the children—that is by getting hold of the children. That is the only way on God's earth you will ever solve the problem of reaching the masses."

DIES IN ROME.

Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, Dean of the Sacred College, died Thursday in Rome at the age of eighty-one. Cardinal Vannutelli was one of the most influential of those members of the Sacred College eligible to the Papacy. He was one of the six Cardinals Bishops who take their title from the suburban sees of Rome. He was Bishop of Porto, Santa Rufina and Ostia. He was created and proclaimed Cardinal by Pope Leo XIII, March 14, 1887.

MUST WAIT LONG.

We seek to make America Catholic, but at the rate we are going Gabriel will blow his trumpet before the task is one-tenth done. There are about 30,000,000 non-Catholics in the United States. About 40,000 converts enter the Catholic church in this country every year. If the population stood still in point of numbers, it would take us at our present rate of progress 2,000 years to convert the whole country. That's a long time to wait. A good many things may happen in the meantime. Anyway the country is in no immediate peril of becoming Catholic.—Catholic Columbian.

SACRED COLLEGE.

The Sacred College, which should consist of seventy Cardinals, has now but fifty-eight members. Pope Benedict has as yet created none, and death threatens to further reduce the number before another consistory can be held.

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE.

This is the silver jubilee year of the ordination to the priesthood of his excellency, the Most Rev. John Bonzano, D. D., Apostolic Delegate to the United States. During his nearly four years here Archbishop Bonzano has won the confidence and respect of the better element of all Christian denominations.

WARNING TO OTHERS.

The Dunkirk, N. Y., correspondent of the Buffalo Catholic Union and Times sent the following to last week's issue of that paper: "There died this week in this city a man who had the unenviable distinction of having first widely circulated the mythical story of the famous underground passage in Dunkirk. The story was told to a devout convert to the church with the ostensible purpose of perverting her mind from the religion she had embraced. As an exhibition of God's wrath, the man temporarily lost his reason and for a long time languished in an insane asylum. His demise ought to be a warning to others of his type who seek to demean the character of of saintly men and women. God shows his divine wrath in many unexplainable ways."

CHAPEL FUND GROWS.

The chapel that the stenographers of America are working to erect in a missionary district, which otherwise would be churchless, is arousing interest in many circles. The fund is growing, and will be kept open until $500, the sum required, will have been collected. There are many stenographers and other business women who are welcome to contribute to this fund who probably have long cherished the idea of doing something tangible and substantial for the missions; and this is indeed a God-given chance to do something lasting and much needed for those specially blessed workers in God's church—the missionary priests. Donations may be sent to the Catholic Church Extension Society, whose offices are located in the McCormick building, Chicago.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 1 will meet next Thursday evening.

Division 3 held an old time reunion meeting Monday evening.

Hibernian day, next Monday, is the absorbing topic in Baltimore.

Since the middle of April three divisions have been organized in Chicago.

The last initiation at Kansas City added thirty-seven new members to the order.

Division 11 of Utica is doing some excellent work and increasing its membership.

The biennial convention of the order in Ireland opened on Wednesday in Dublin.

The Ladies' Auxiliary dance will take place at Senning's Park next Wednesday evening.

The Hibernian Rifles of San Francisco will hold a great military tournament tomorrow.

The work of extension still goes on in Maryland, all divisions reporting a steady increase in membership.

Division 4 will meet Monday evening and hear reports of the big initiation to be held the first meeting in September.

Despite threatening weather more than 5,000 people were entertained at the Irish day celebration of the Milwaukee Hibernians.

A large gathering greeted National President McLaughlin last Sunday at the Irish day celebration of the Cincinnati Hibernians.

National Secretary Sullivan commends Division 2 of Washington, of which Patrick J. Haltigan is President, for its large membership.

Indianapolis Hibernians had a great and successful celebration Wednesday at Broad Ripple Park. No meetings were held that night.

National President McLaughlin addressed a great Hibernian meeting in Toledo, where he was a delegate to the Federation convention.

A Prince Albert suit and silk hat were the prizes for attendance at the meeting of Division 1 at Mobile. Similar prizes are awarded each month.

Division 1 of Bridgeport, Conn., will make a big event of the initiation to be held next month; when fifty candidates will be given the three degrees.

Thursday evening of last week the Ladies' Auxiliary of Olean, N. Y., admitted a class to membership and then entertained their men friends at a basket picnic.

Evidence of the prosperity of the order in Mobile was made through the initiation of five candidates and the reading of several applications at the last meeting.

Twenty-five thousand invitations were sent out in Central Ohio for the Hibernian celebration, held Wednesday at Columbus, which closed with a great mass meeting in the evening.

Chester Hibernians have dedicated their new building, one of the finest in Pennsylvania. Rev. Father Guldway, of the Catholic University, and Mayor William Ward, delivered addresses.

Minneapolis and St. Paul Hibernians made a display in the Central Verein convention parade that evoked public compliment. They were led by Hon. Daniel W. Lawler and ex-National President Regan.

The widow of the late Capt. Thomas J. Hargadon, the well known Louisville fire fighter, received $1,000 from the Minnesota Hibernian State Life Insurance Fund. Many here did not know that Tom held membership in the order.

Two hundred members attended the meeting of the Ancient Order in Mobile last week, when Right Rev. Bishop Allen was the principal speaker. Others who spoke were Rev. Father Eaton, Hon. Michael J. McDermott, John C. O'Connell, Frank J. Thompson, M. J. Duggan and Roger Hannigan.

FONTAINE FERRY PARK.

Commencing with the matinee Sunday Singer's Midgents enter upon the sixth and positively their last week in this city. Miss Adele Moray has been retained and will offer a number of new and catchy songs. The Corangots have also been retained and will offer the latest steps in terpsichore. On the bandstand little Miss Dawson, who has been captivating the park patrons since she opened her engagement, will be seen as the special attraction all next week. As to the pictures which are presented every evening in the park, a number of new and attractive ones have been "booked" and will be offered for the approval of the "movie" lovers.

MUSICAL FAREWELL.

Centuries old music blended with modern compositions of a sacred character was rendered before a large audience in Washington Hall, the university theater at Notre Dame, by the brothers' choir on Friday evening last. The choir was trained and directed by Rev. John B. Delaunay, C. S. C., of Holy Cross College, Washington, D. C. Music lovers from neighboring towns were very much entertained and instructed by the contrast existing between the ancient and modern styles of music, as most of them had never heard the very ancient music of the church. The concert was in the nature of a farewell to twenty-five young brothers of the Congregation of the Holy Cross who were about to leave for the first time to take up their life work as teachers in various schools throughout the United States.

AMERICAN CHRONOLOGY.

Timely Record of Some Memorable Events in the Catholic History of America.

By James A. Rooney, LL. D.

August 22, 1876—The Right Rev. Anacletus Rappo, first Bishop of Cleveland, resigned his see after an episcopate of twenty-three years and retired to the diocese of Burlington, Vt., where he performed the labors of a missionary until his death in his seventy-sixth year, September 8, 1877.

August 24, 1904—The Right Rev. Joseph Alfred Archambault, consecrated first Bishop of Joliet, Canada, by the Most Rev. Paul Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal; born at L'Assomption, Canada, May 23, 1859; died April 25, 1913.

August 25, 1849—Brothers Gelsaire, Peter and Dorothy, of the Christian Brothers, arrived in St. Louis and took charge of the Cathedral parochial school; Christian Brothers' College opened, with Brother Patrick as President, May 21, 1850.

August 26, 1650—Passage by the General Assembly of Maryland of Lord Baltimore's celebrated toleration act, "being the first in the annals of mankind," according to Bancroft, the historian, "to make religious freedom the basis of the State."

August 27, 1847—The Right Rev. Sebastian G. Messmer born at Goldack, St. Gall, Switzerland; ordained at Innsbruck July 23, 1871; professor of theology in the Newark diocesan seminary and of canon law in the Catholic University; consecrated Bishop of Green Bay, Wis., March 27, 1892; appointed Archbishop of Milwaukee November 28, 1903.

August 28, 2823—St. James' church, Brooklyn, dedicated by the Right Rev. John Connolly, Bishop of New York; sermon by the Very Rev. John Power, V. G.; the oldest original Catholic church building in the State of New York.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

The victory of the Champs over Bertrand last Sunday in the Twin City League clinched the flag for the former, winners in a 6 to 4 game mainly through the injury to Hines, one of the Bertrand stars, who broke his ankle in the first inning, his hitting and fielding being sadly missed through the rest of the game. His substitute failed to hit the Champs' pitcher at all, while Hines has always batted at a 400 clip of the same twirler. Mackin, trimmed Trinity in a 7 to 4 game, the latter losing through errors.

JOSEPH P. HINES,
Twin City League Star Who Broke His Ankle Last Sunday.

Bruins trimmed the lowly Imperials 18 to 6, while the K. of C. just did nose out the Olympics in a 5 to 4 game, although Bohannon, of the former team, fanned seventeen men and only allowed seven hits. The attendance last Sunday was the largest of the season, over 11,000 people being present. Tomorrow the schedule is as follows: Bruins vs. K. of C. Mackin vs. Olympics, Champs vs. Imperials and Bertrands vs. Trinity. The standing to date:

Team	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Champs	17	1	.944
Bertrands	13	3	.813
Olympics	12	5	.702
K. of C.	9	8	.529
Mackin	6	10	.375
Bruins	5	11	.313
Trinity	4	13	.235
Imperials	1	16	.060

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA.

On September 9, 1915, the Catholic University of Oklahoma, an institution devoted to the cause of higher learning and empowered by the State of Oklahoma to grant degrees and diplomas, will open its doors to prospective students. The university building is a five-story structure, 220x70 feet, covering a floor space of approximately 70,000 square feet, fire-proof throughout with a capacity of 400 students. It is built in the beautiful Tudor Gothic style and contains all modern conveniences. Located only three-quarters of a mile from the city limits of Shawnee, it is situated on an eminence, the highest in the vicinity, and has a campus of one hundred acres.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The death is announced of Michael Curran at Edenderry. He was at one time Master of the Celbridge Workhouse.

Miss Susan Carroll and Miss Margaret Ferguson, both of Clones, have been appointed rural letter carriers in that district.

The Newry Urban Council elects John McCourt, of Needham Place, as Shops Inspector. There were three candidates.

At the County Fermanagh Assizes, held in Enniskillen, Judge Madden was presented by the grand jury with white gloves, there being no criminal cases.

The death is announced of the Rev. Edward Loughrey, Dungiven. He was a native of Donegal, and had been parish priest of Dungiven for over twenty years.

Dundalk Jail has been cleared of prisoners, all of whom have been transferred to Armagh, and the prison has been converted into an hospital for wounded soldiers.

The Guardians of the Rathdown Union have decided to use Irish coal. A sample supply recently tested was found to be of better quality than the coal imported from Wales.

At the meeting of the Joint Committee of Management of the Westmeath County Infirmary, Rev. P. Daly, Castlepollard, was unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Infirmary Board.

Most Rev. Dr. Hoare was, at the quarterly meeting of the committee, unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Joint Board of Governors of Longford County Infirmary for the ensuing year.

Ballingrrown House, the residence of Major John McGillicuddy, near Tralee, has been destroyed by fire. A lot of furniture, plate, etc., was also consumed, the total damage being estimated at about $35,000.

Patrick Casey, an ex-soldier, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Waterford for having at Fethard, Tipperary, used language likely to prejudice recruiting. Three military men gave evidence against him.

It is announced that the status of the Castlebar prison has been reduced to that of a minor prison, and that in future it will only be utilized for criminal cases and the receipt of prisoners having to serve only short sentences.

Patrick Byrne, Ballinacraig, was tried at the Wicklow Petty Sessions for shooting John Delaney. The evidence showed that the two men went out for a walk, Byrne taking a gun. In firing at a rabbit Byrne accidentally shot his companion. The case was dismissed.

Rev. Patrick Gibney, a native of Drumbess, was recently ordained in the Irish College at Salamanca. On his return home he was warmly received. He was met at Arva by a crowd who escorted him to his mother's residence. He celebrated his first mass in St. Bridget's church, Killeshandra.

Michael Tierney, farmer, aged about fifty, residing at Borrisoleigh, was returning home from Templemore fair. At an awkward bend in the lane leading to his house the man was thrown out, the cart falling on him and he received such serious injuries that he died shortly afterward.

The community of the Presentation Convent, Youghal, and the townspeople generally, are deeply regretful at the death of Mother M. Joseph Power, which occurred in the convent. Mother Power had reached her seventy-eighth year, and had spent no less than fifty-two in the Presentation order.

OWENSBORO.

Last Sunday at Owensboro Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Oberst, old pioneer residents of that city, held a happy family reunion at their home on West Fifth street, the occasion being probably the only one upon which all the members of the family could assemble together. Mr. and Mrs. Oberst are the parents of Hon. Albert B. Oberst and Miss Mary Catherine Oberst, who left this week for Pittsburgh to enter the Passionist Sisterhood.

AT MILWAUKEE.

The Louisville team will begin a three-game series at Milwaukee this afternoon and should have no trouble in winning a majority of the series there, as the Brewers have slipped badly and will finish about sixth in the race, which is a big drop for pennant winners of the past two seasons. After this series the Colonels jump to Minneapolis, where they will do well to break even, as Cantillon's club is making a Garrison finish for pennant honors, bearing out the prediction made in these columns just six weeks ago that the Millers would be there at the finish. Many of the association newspaper critics who awarded the pennant to St. Paul a month ago are now looking around for an alibi because of the easy victories registered by the Millers over St. Paul this past week, which cut down the latter's lead. With Corridon back in the lineup and the pitchers going in they are the team looks better than it did any time this season and should more than hold its own on the road. It was suggested in these columns last week that with Corridon's return Midkiff should bench himself in favor of Stansbury, this suggestion being commended by a fan from Waverly Hills, and glad to relate, this suggestion has been carried out.
